PREFACE

This publication presents data on persons licenced drivers in Israel at the end of 2008. The data in this publication, as in publications on the same topic from the previous two years, are based on processing conducted by the Central Bureau of Statistics using the file of drivers of the Licencing Office of the Ministry of Transport.

For the first time, the publication is bilingual: Hebrew and English.

In this publication, classifications for licences categories were adjusted so as to make them suitable to the European classifications following changes made by the Ministry of Transport.

The publication includes detailed tables on the topic of licenced drivers in Israel (persons having a driver's licence) by various characteristics: type of vehicle they are licenced to drive, year their licence was first issued, population group, sex, age, locality of residence and driving restrictions. Some of the tables in the publication are comparative tables to previous years.

We would like to thank the Information Systems Branch of the Ministry of Transport for putting the file at our disposal.

INTRODUCTION

1. General

The Central Bureau of Statistics publishes yearly data on persons licenced to drive in Israel at the end of 2008. The data include information on type of vehicle on which they are licenced to drive, the year licence was first issued, sex, age, district, locality of residence, driving restrictions and additional characteristics.

The data at the Central Bureau of Statistics is based on a yearly administrative file received each year from the Licencing Authority of the Ministry of Transport.

In this publication, classifications for licence categories were adjusted so as to make them suitable to the European classifications following changes made by the Ministry of Transport.

This publication also includes a comparative table for previous years.

2. Main Findings

Persons Licenced to drive in Israel and their share of the population

At the end of 2008 the number of persons licenced to drive motor vehicles reached 3,364,000. During that year the number of persons licenced to drive increased by 83,000; i.e., an increase of approximately 2.5% compared to the end of 2007. The population increased by only 1.8% during the same period.

The average number of licenced to drive per motor vehicle was approximately 1.4 (similar to 2007).

The number of licenced to drive per one thousand residents reached approximately 456 at the end of 2008; i.e., one licence-holder for every 2.2 residents or one licence-holder for every 1.5 residents age 17 or over (similar to 2007).

Licenced to drive,¹ by type of vehicle

In 2008, there were approximately 3,364,000 persons licenced to drive a private car or a commercial vehicle with a gross weight of up to 3.5 tons (up to 4 tons for those whose licence was issued before 2007); approximately 430,000 were licenced to drive trucks with a gross weight over 3.5 tons, of which approximately 170,000 were licenced to drive a truck with a gross weight is over 12 tons; approximately 471,000 were licenced to drive motorcycles; approximately 96,000 were licenced to drive a taxi; approximately 59,000 were licenced to drive a bus²; and approximately 38,000 were licenced to drive a road tractor.

¹ Some are licenced to drive in several types of vehicles.

² Includes those with special permits to drive a bus in times of emergency only.

In localities with 10,000 and more residents, of all persons licenced to drive, the share of those licenced to drive a truck is greater in the non-Jewish localities, relative to the national average. This ratio reached 66%-68% in the localities of Ar'ara BaNegev and Kuseife, and in the localities of Rahat, Hura, Tel Sheva and Jisr Az-Zarqa it reached 45%-54% (the national average is 12.8%). Those licenced to drive a motorcycle (the national average is 14%) reached 20%-25% in the localities of Tel Aviv-Yafo, Eilat, Giv'atayim, Ramat Gan, Binyamina-Giv'at Ada, Azor, Yehud and Ramat HaSharon. The share of persons licenced to drive a taxi (the national average is 2.9%) is highest in the localities of Kuseife, Eilat, Kafar Qasem, and Tirat Karmel and reaches 8%-11%.

Persons Licenced to drive¹, by year licence was first issued, age and sex

Similar to the previous year, approximately 84% of all persons licenced to drive have had a licence for more than five years (i.e., the licence was first issued prior to 2004), and approximately 6.3% have had a licence for less than two years (i.e., the licence was issued after 1 January, 2007).

The distribution of persons licenced to drive according to age shows that approximately 71,000 (approximately 2.1%) are aged 18 or younger, and approximately 244,000 (approximately 7.3%) are aged 65 and older of which approximately 69,000 (approximately 2.0%) are aged 75 and older. Approximately three-quarters of the population in the age group 25-54 are licenced to drive, whereas in the age group 65 and older, only approximately one-third are licenced to drive.

The number of women that are licenced to drive reached approximately 1,390,000 at the end of 2008 (an increase of approximately 3.5% compared with the end of 2007). Their portion of the population of persons licenced to drive has increased, from 38% ten years ago to 41% in 2008.

Driving Restrictions

Approximately 39% of all licenced to drive have some type of driving restriction. The main restriction is the requirement to wear glasses or contact lenses while driving (approximately 28% of all licenced to drive).

¹ Some are licenced to drive in several types of vehicles.

3. Definitions and Explanations

Licensed to drive: the entire population of persons with Israeli licences, who had a valid driver's licence, or a licence which expired during the previous year. Does not include licences to drive tractors and/or agricultural vehicles.

Licensed to drive, by type of vehicle: The data in the tables by type of vehicle do not sum up to the grand total, since some persons are licensed to drive more than one type of vehicle.

In this publication, classifications for licence categories were adjusted so as to make them suitable to the European classifications following changes made by the Ministry of Transport (licence categories are shown in Latin letters).

- B - Licensed to drive a private car – all those who are licensed to drive a private or commercial vehicle whose gross weight is up to 3.5 tons and for those whose licence was issued before 2007, up to 4.0 tons.
- C1 - Licensed to drive a truck whose gross weight is up to 12 tons, and for those whose licence was issued before 2007, up to 15 tons.
- C - Licensed to drive a truck whose gross weight is over 12 tons.
- D1 - Licensed to drive a taxi.
- D - Licensed to drive a bus.
- E - Licensed to drive a road tractor.
- Motorcycle:
 - A2 – Licensed to drive a motorcycle with up to 125 cc (up to 14.6 horsepower).
 - A1 – Licensed to drive a motorcycle with up to 33 horsepower (up to 25 kilowatt) and for those whose licence was issued before 2007, up to 500 cc.
 - A – Licensed to drive a motorcycle with over 33 horsepower (over 25 kilowatt) and for those whose licence was issued before 2007, over 500 cc.

Private car: A vehicle designed to transport 8 passengers in addition to the driver and is not a public or a commercial vehicle or a Motorcycle (a person licensed to drive a private car – see above).

Truck: A vehicle intended to transport freight. Includes a truck whose gross weight is over 3.5 tons. Does not include a road tractor.

The total number of licenced to drive trucks whose gross weight is up to 12 tons is identical to the total number of all licenced to drive a truck. The number of licenced to drive only a truck whose weight is up to 12 tons, is derived by subtracting the number of licenced to drive truck whose weight is over 12 tons, from the total number.

Motorcycle: A motor vehicle with two or three wheels, described in its licence as a motorcycle, including tricycle and motorcycle with sidecar.

The total number of licenced to drive a motorcycle whose engine capacity is up to 125 cc (A2), is identical to the total number of all licenced to drive a motorcycle. The number of licenced to drive only a motorcycle whose engine capacity is up to 125 cc, is derived by subtracting the number of licenced to drive motorcycle A1 (whose engine capacity is 126 - 500 cc) from the total number.

In 1993 the Licencing Authority reduced the number of categories of driver's licences for two-wheeled motor vehicles (including three-wheeled) to three, according to engine capacity: up to 50 cc, 51 - 500 cc and over 500 cc. In practical terms, a person licenced before 1993 to drive a motorcycle whose engine capacity is up to 250 cc (motor scooter), as of 1993 is allowed to drive a motorcycle whose engine capacity is up to 500 cc. This change in the definition of categories of licences caused a significant increase in 1993 in the number of licenced to drive, relative to the number of motorcycles of the same engine capacity.

In 2007, following adjustments made in order to suit the European classifications, a change was made in the 3 categories that were introduced in 1993, as described above. The categories in this publication match the new categories that appear in Latin letters. For example in category A1 included are all persons licenced to drive who were issued a motorcycle licence starting in 2007 according to the new categories, and also those licenced to drive who were issued motorcycle licence up to 2006 and were licenced to drive a motorcycle with an engine capacity of 500 cc.

Year licence was first issued:

- Vehicles with more than 4 wheels - The year that the licence was first issued, with no consideration of the type of vehicle for which the licence was issued. For example: 8,374 persons licenced to drive a truck were first issued their licence in 2005 for a private car or directly for a truck (see Table 2).
- Vehicles with less than 4 wheels (motorcycle) – year highest licence category was issued.

Population Group

- Jews.
- Arabs – includes Moslems, Arab-Christians and Druze.
- Grand Total – also includes non-Arab Christians and those not classified by religion.

Driving Restrictions: The number of driving restrictions is greater than the number of licenced to drive with driving restrictions due to the fact that there are persons licenced to drive with more than one restriction.

As of July 1995, the restriction of a “New Driver” is valid for two years.

4. Methodology

A. The Population Investigated

The entire population of persons with Israeli licences to drive, who had a valid driver’s licence, or a licence which expired during the previous year. Does not include persons licenced to drive tractors and/or agricultural vehicles.

B. The investigated Period

The data in this publication refers to all persons licenced to drive on 31.12.08, and also includes a historical table.

C. Method of Investigation

The database at the Central Bureau of Statistics is based on a yearly administrative file received each year from the Licencing Authority of the Ministry of Transport.

D. Handling of data

The data is received goes through a process of reception, quality checking and data processing at the Central Bureau of Statistics.

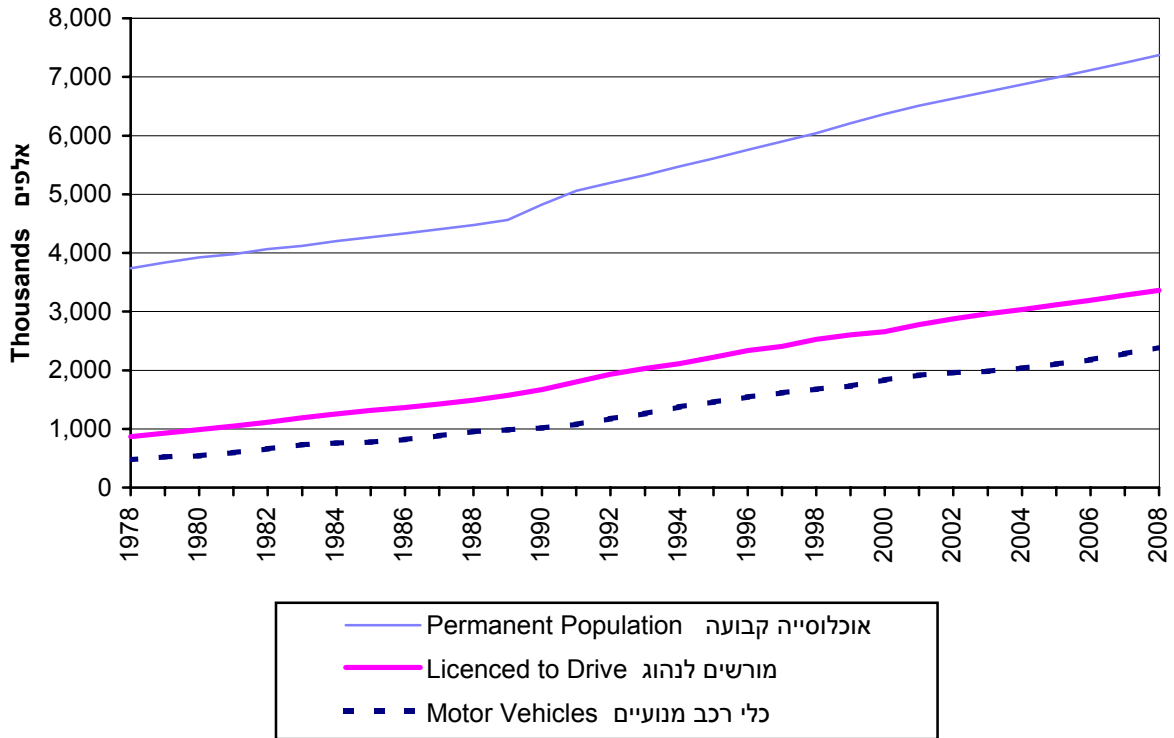

E. Reliability of data

The number of licenced to drive that appears in this publication is census-based (a count of all persons licenced to drive). The data is not biased by sampling errors; however there may be mistakes in registration, symbols, data entry and processing.

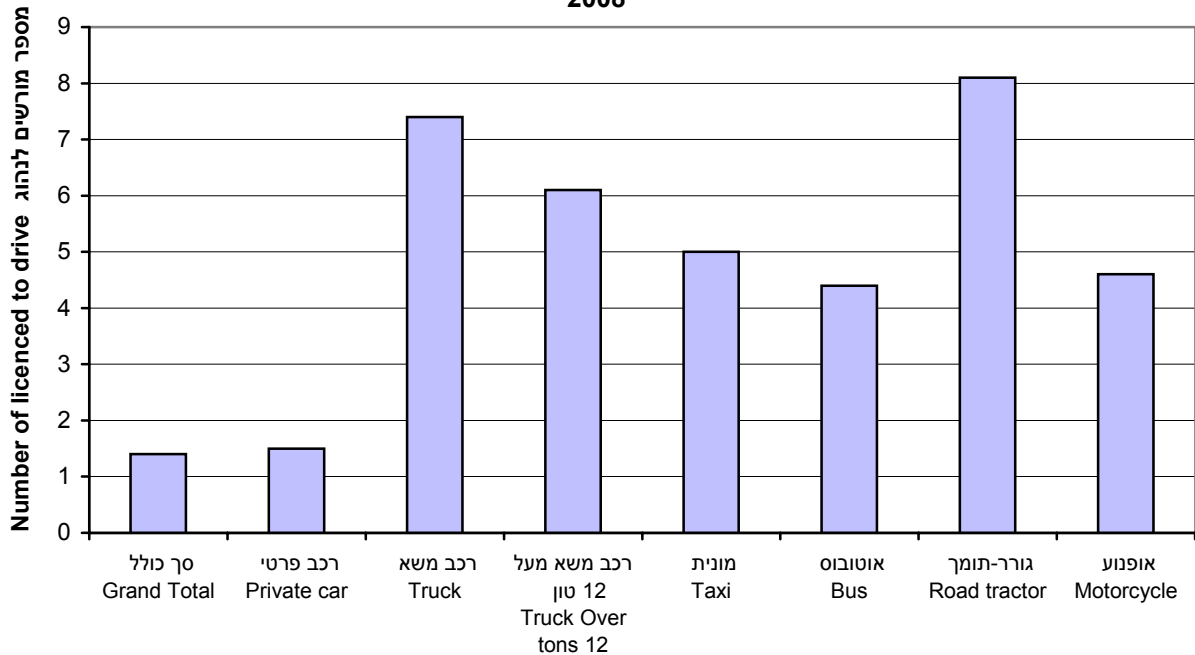

The data also includes persons with Israeli licences who do not live permanently in Israel as well as foreign persons licenced to drive who reside permanently in Israel.
